

2021-22 RECOMMENDED READS YEAR R

	Andreae, Giles	Elephant Me	When Num Num the elephant can't perform a spectacular feat for the King, he leaves the herd under a cloud. But Num Num has hidden talents that are appreciated by the other animals who show him that just being you is enough to make you special.	Y
	Bright, Rachel	Slug in Love	Doug the slug is persistent in his hunt for a hug and some love. Will his search end in success? A lovely rhyming story about everyone being appreciated by someone who may be very unexpected.	Y
	Butterworth, Nick	Percy's 123	A counting book using characters from the popular series Percy the Parkkeeper and his animal friends. A great book to introduce numbers and counting in class.	Y
	Clarkson, Stephanie	Super Milly and the Super School Day	It is Superhero day at Milly's school but she is concerned she has no superpowers. But during the day she realises that superpowers can be more subtle but just as effective.	Y
	Docherty, Thomas	The Horse That Jumped	A girl and a horse go on a magical adventure over mountains, clouds and more. They discover wonderful worlds before returning home. A lovely read aloud book about imagination.	Y
	English, Alex	Stop That Dinosaur!	When a dinosaur steals a little girl's Grandma, she has to follow it to rescue her. But the dinosaur is not all bad and ends up going back for tea with the girl and her gran. Great to read aloud as well as introducing familiar places as the rescue unfolds.	Y
	Fletcher, Tom	There's a Superhero in Your Book	The Scribbler is causing chaos in a story book so the Superhero needs some help!. A fun interactive story where the readers have to help Superhero foil the antics of Scribbler. Good for following instructions and joining in.	Y
	Foreman, Michael	I Didn't Do It!	Milo doesn't want to miss the cycle race that is coming to town. As he cycles to see it he sets off a chain of chaotic events of which he is oblivious but it all works out in the end. Good for inspiring writing and talking about what might happen next.	Y

	Gunaratnam, Tracy	All I Want is an Octopus	A little boy wants an octopus as his pet but his parents are not so keen. But will Gran be able to persuade them that octopi are very good house pets with many special skills.	Y
	Hirst, Daisy	I Like Trains	Small Dog is obsessed by trains and plays with his toy one all the time. But nothing beats going on a real train especially when you meet someone you love at the end of the journey.	Y
	Hodgkinson, Leigh	Onesie Party	Let's meet a host of animals who are all invited to a onesie party. Great to read aloud as well as introducing a wide range of animals to talk about.	Y
	Jarvis	Follow Me, Flo!	Flo has an unfortunate habit of wandering off so Daddy Duck has to keep her in line with a song. But Flo invents her own version with interesting consequences. Good for introducing opposites and describing words.	Y
	Jones, Gareth P	The Lion on the Bus	The wheels on the bus go round and round but what does a lion on a bus do? The familiar rhyme with some animal passengers make this a wonderful read aloud story.	Y
	Kane, John	I Say Boo You Say Hoo	Let's tell this story by joining in with a small ghost who is afraid of the dark. Good for interactive telling with the children picking up on the verbal and visual clues as they go along.	Y
	Melling, David	Hugless Douglas and the Nature Walk	Hugless Douglas goes on a nature walk with his class, spotting insects, animals and plants along the way. It starts to rain, an adventure follows and Douglas saves the day. Includes a nature spotters guide in the back of the book.	Y
	Melling, David	Ruffles and the Red, Red Coat	Ruffles is a small puppy who knows his own mind and wearing his red coat is definitely not what he wants to do. But when he wants to play with his friend Ruby, he realises that his coat might be a good thing after all. Ideal for discussing compromising as well as being able to admit you were wrong.	Y
	Murray, Diana	Goodnight, Veggies	A delightful bedtime story saying goodnight to all the vegetables in the garden as they settle down for the night.	Y

	Newman, Ben	Snip Snap	Crocodile is peacefully minding her eggs when Crab decides to sneak up and bite her. What follows next introduces children to onomatopoeic words that everyone can join in with.	Y
	Timms, Barry	This is NOT a Unicorn!	A little girl has a friend who is definitely not a unicorn but what is that thing on the top of its head if it is not a horn? Lots of wordplay and imagination as we discover all the things that a horn can be used for - but it is not a unicorn!	Y
	Williams, Sam	How About a Night Out?	A cat and his friends take the reader on a trip round the city at night. Lots to see and hear as we explore a night time world.	Y
